Intercept IT, Company Team Building Day.

At Splash and Tickle, we pamper as well as party.

Award winning London IT group Intercept IT wanted to surprise staff and lay on a company team building day with a difference mixing awards with rewards, and Splash and Tickle fitted the bill perfectly.

With no knowledge of what lay in store, staff and guests arriving for the days activities were left agape when greeted by the sight of hot tubs and a swimming pool shimmering in the grounds of a private country venue, with a welcoming team of masseuse awaiting their instruction.

The great thing about this spa day was that there was something to suit everyone. Some chose to just kick off their shoes and enjoy a bubbling foot spa or manicure in their own attire. Others had a good old natter over a fresh fruit smoothie whilst having a simple head and neck massage delivered by one of our Total Therapy practitioners. Whereas those of a more adventurous persuasion made the most of the fresh towels and swimwear provided to get wet and have some fun in the pool and hot tubs.

Goodie bags containing some carefully selected luxurious spa products were provided for guests to take away with them as a final reminder of the day.

...the trouble is having booked Splash and Tickle I have been under pressure ever since to install it permanently at the office!”
